Oliver Update 16 Days to Opening Night!!!

Last Sunday after completing the blocking of Act 2 we have reached the milestone where we can say we have a show! From this point on for the cast, crew and band it is the mahi of refining, focusing and adding detail. Everyone has been working incredibly hard to reach this point and the production team would sincerely like to thank all involved for their efforts so far.

There is still much mahi to be done. Run after run of the show to gain space, pace and grace. Shifting and installing a mountain of tech to light and produce the show. Creating the seating block to give you the best possible advantage and setting up the systems to get you there and let you enjoy Oliver!

Speaking of which, ticket sales will be announced this week. They will be online with the option to purchase at the school office.

Exciting times!
